REGISTRATIONS

The early bird registration has now finished. We are pleased that the extension allowed people to complete their registration details during their holiday week. There are still 9 weeks to register, but do not leave it too late as you may miss out.

The pre tour to the repositories on Tuesday 27 March is almost booked out, when it is we will have to go to a waiting list. Other tours have space so make your choices soon for you or your accompanying partner.

Accommodation at the Horizon Apartments is booked out, but we are attempting to get them to put more apartments aside for us at our special price. Please contact them if you wish to stay there, but in the meantime do not forget our other preferred places for accommodation.

SPONSORSHIP

It is so pleasing to have sponsors for the Congress who not only offer their initial sponsorship, but have also come forward with added extras - advertising on their websites and magazines and donating prizes for our raffle. A big thank you from us all. You, our reader, can support our sponsors by making sure you visit their websites and purchase their products.

BARGAIN - FOR SALE

These are very familiar words to most people in January. The sales are on, and stores and businesses try to entice us to buy their goods.

WE ARE NOT HAVING A SALE BUT WE OFFER YOU A BARGAIN

Our EXHIBITION is open to all. For the registrant, the Exhibition entry is part of your package. If you wish to only visit the Exhibition, a fee of $10 a day will be charged (this does not include refreshments). When we make comparison with all the SALE items and BARGAINS offered in the last few weeks, the charge for the exhibition is certainly one of the better, inexpensive items for 2012. Come along to meet our experts and view what our exhibitors have to offer.

Last month we highlighted our exhibitors:

Gould/Unlock the Past;
National Library of Australia;
Institute of Genealogical Studies;
Guild of One Name Studies;

This month we highlight these exhibitors:

Canberra2015 – The next Congress will be held in Canberra, March 2015. Come along to see and hear what plans they already have and a tantalising glimpse of what to expect.

Openbook Howden Design & Print

www.openbookhowden.com.au/
